Half Term is very nearly here and my goodness, what a half term this one has been for us all! I'd like to thank everyone in ensuring that we have been able to work together to allow the children's learning to continue despite the many challenges of lockdown. Thank you to the children for joining your teachers on Zoom and sharing your learning [and pets!] and also for working so hard on the activities set. Parents and Carers, thank you for taking on the task of supporting home learning and keeping in touch with us at school. The children who have attended school, thank you for continuing to work hard and making us all smile. Finally, thank you to all of our staff who have worked more tirelessly than ever to provide engaging learning for the children both working remotely and those in school. As far as we know, the government are making an announcement on Monday 22nd February about wider reopening for schools. Let's hope that by then, wider reopening from Monday 8th March is deemed safe as we are very much looking forward to having all of the children back. As soon as we have any further information, we will communicate this to you. Have a very happy term! Take care and stay safe. Miss Jackson

Training Day Change of Date

Please note that the training day on Friday 19th March has been rearranged for Friday 30th April. We acknowledge that having a training day so soon after the children are hopefully returning to school, will not be productive for anyone.

Paper Packs of Work

Paper packs of work will continue to be available every Monday morning outside the Infant and Junior School offices for the children in FS2 to Year 6. Please note that on Monday 22nd February 2021, packs will not be ready for collection until after 10:00am. Please ensure that completed packs are returned to school so they can be marked by your child's class teacher.

Critical Worker/Vulnerable School Provision

Please can I remind you that school is closed to all children next week.

As I am sure you are aware, lockdown restrictions will continue for some weeks and it is vital that these regulations are followed. We have had a number of children in school over the past few weeks, who have shared that they have mixed with other families, attended sleepovers and many other examples where the government legislation has not been followed.

It is important that we work together to keep each other safe and reduce the risk of any further outbreaks in school.

Please bear this in mind over the half term break.

World Book Day

- You have received a letter today regarding our plans for World Book Day on Thursday 4th March. We have different activities planned which you can get involved in with your families at home, including:
 - Dress up for zoom!
 - Family character quiz
 - Create your own story competition
